God willing, all six members of the G.W. force will be in Biloxi at the Pres. Convention when you read this. The office will be kept open by Dorothy.

The law entitles Mayor Sharp to all costs in cases he tries. He voluntarily relinquished collection of costs from cases which he dismissed by holding up the fine. He should be commended for relinquishing something that he could get, were he disposed to do so. In other words, if the City collects nothing, Bob collects nothing.

Well, four subscribers paid up Saturday and Friday, and the Red Cross is a dollar better off.

With the international situation so tense, and probably growing more tense, it behooves all foreign-born people, as a matter of expediency if nothing else, to walk quietly and speak softly.

Our good friend, and correspondent, G. S. Burke of Mr. Nebo, visited Grenada and the GCW one day recently. He is as spry as a cricket and as full of bull as a beef steer.

As we go to press Wednesday - one day early - the life of Hon. W. S. P. Doty is ebbing fast, hope for his recovery having been abandoned.

Attention is called to a circular we printed for the Tie Plant colored ball team, in which it is said that, at that two-day event, scheduled for July 4 and 5, there will be plenty of "B. O. and Cold Drinks". They are frank about the matter at least.

Like a child whistling when he goes thru a cemetery, we are still betting on the Allies.

The Horse Show interfered with the weekly meeting of the Dishonest Aldermen Club.

It certainly must be grand to be a banker. One holiday on Thursday, another on Monday. Nothing to do between times. Banking is almost as easy as preaching.

Speaking of bankers, two swamp bankers, Crawford from Moorhead and Wofford from Sumner, spent the weekend here.

As to Sunday closing, Mayor Sharp brought before him for violating the Sunday closing law.

Homer Williams, and Joe Neely, recent purchasers of the Tribune old lot near the jail, are going to let it be used as a free parking lot for at least two years. Good work, boys.

Pity the poor fish in the city pool. With all the ambers, snuff spittle, clear butts and cigarette stubs, as well as other trash, they must have copper riveted stomachs to live on.

See where Squire Pickle married his first couple. If they stick as well as the couple I married when I was supervisor, Reno will go out of business.

Tell me your fish tales for incorporation in the fish column. We could fill a page if we had a correspondent at Tony's.

It is never too late to change for the better. Let us in the future insist that our schools teach the children to do something useful with their hands. The greatest need in America today is skilled hands. Even in the very depths of the depression, few skilled hands were in enforced idleness.

While teaching them, let us teach them to use a pen so that what they write can be read even after it is cold.

As one alderman, I do not conceive it to be my duty to enforce the laws. Like state and federal governments, the city has three branches of government: The legislative branch which is the board of mayor and aldermen; the executive department which executes the city ordinances as well as the state laws, and to some extent, the mayor; and the judicial department which is composed of the mayor only. At least, that is my conception of it.

Hurd Horton, awakened early Monday morning by a prowler, slipped on his nightshirt, slipped six 32-20s in his owl head, slipped to the back door and slipped six bullets in slow order into the air. He alarmed the whole neighborhood to the extent that his neighbor, Nicola, is figuring on getting out papers. On the other hand, Hurd said Nicola was asleep at the first shot, and in Torrance when the last shot was fired, getting back to Grenada sometime Monday.

Bids On New Baptist Church Building To Be Received On Next June 21st

Bids for the erection of the new church for members of the First Baptist congregation are being invited or submission on June 21 by the building committee of that church.

Plans for the church, with alternate types of construction, solid brick or brick and hollow tile, are on file with the committee.

The plans contemplate a beautiful Gothic structure. The main auditorium, with a beautiful and lofty dome, will be 80 by 50 feet in size. The auditorium will, one might say, be the stem of the "T", while the two and one-half story Sunday School department size 67x100, will be the body of the "T". In this part of the building will be about 45 Sunday School classrooms, kitchen, pastor's study and toilet.

This building will be located on the so-called McLean Point, a triangular plot formed by the intersection of Main Street and Line Street. This lot was purchased after the old church burned in December 1939. The congregation plans to spend about $50,000 for the building.

The building committee is composed of J. B. Perry, Jr., J. H. Oliver, J. K. Arent, H. J. Ray, J. T. Keeton and the pastor, Glen Eric Wiley.

J. S. Mills Died Thursday Last At Duck Hill

J. S. Mills, 74 years of age, died at his home near Elliott last Thursday, May 30, 1940 after a seizure of illness. He was born in Oxford, Mississippi on April 21, 1866, but had lived in this county for a considerable time.

He was a kindly man, and always attended to his own affairs and was not wont to intrude himself or his opinions upon others, but, when right was an issue, always was to be found on the side he considered right. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and attended as frequently as possible.

His body was buried in the Duck Hill Cemetery at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. T. B. Stroud and Rev. G. T. Sledge officiated both at the services and at the graveside.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Bettie Perry; six daughters, Mesdames W. E. Moore, of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, K. E. Biggins of that place; D. P. Appleby, of Bello-Horizonte, Brazil, F. O. Hayden of Vaughn, Miss.; Mike Wilson, of that place; and A. B. Tanco, of Dallas, Texas; five sons, C. W. Mills, C. F. Mills and L. S. Mills, all of Crystal Springs, J. S. Mills, Jr., of Fulton, Ky. and S. H. Mills of Vaughn, Mississippi. To the bereaved ones we extend our sympathy.

Krogers Store To Move Into Brown Building

Kroger's Store will occupy new, and completely overhauled and completely refurnished quarters in the Ben Brown Building on the East side of the square between July 1 and 15, depending upon the time required to make the interior changes now under way. This progressive store now occupies the McLean Building several doors South of the Brown Building, and has occupied this building for many years.

This store promises to be, when installed in its new quarters, one of the best equipped, if not the best equipped Kroger Store in the state, having planned to install the latest designed counters, market equipment and display shelves. Mr. Bob Anderson is Local Store Manager. Mr. C. B. Murphy is Manager of the Meat Department.

Thus Grenada Grows.

The Curry family brought a bunch of books for the Duck Hill library, and are we all happy over those generous donations; other contributors have been Col. Lloyd T. Binford of about one hundred and fifty books; Mrs. Sophie Clark and Mrs. Hattie Bell Jarrett, all of Memphis bringing books that have been worth much to our many readers. We will give more literary news next week.

Hold Your Nose

This is not a very nice editorial, and it may smell bad to the prudish. With that warning, proceed at your own risk.
Dr. R. A. Clanton, city health officer, appeared before the city council Monday night, and brought to the attention of the members of the council the existence of unspeakable unsanitary conditions rife in the poorest sections of this city which we love to call The City Beautiful.

He spoke of five or six colored families using INADEQUATE, and sometimes unflushable toilets. He spoke of section of the city being served with so-called sanitary WPA toilets which he described as far from sanitary. He spoke of the terrible stench which arose from some of those terrible places. He spoke of negro tenants who begged him to see that adequate sanitary facilities were installed in their homes. While Dr. Clanton, as health officer, receives his commission and power from the State of Mississippi, and while he has power superior to that of the city council with respect to matters of sanitation, he asked for and received full backing from the council to proceed to abate these nuisances with all of the power that the law gives him.

Several years ago, this writer and the then mayor made an inspection trip to some of the "sore spots" in this city. Believing that conditions have not changed for the better, we fully agree with Dr. Clanton that conditions are indescribably bad in some crowded negro sections. Dr. Clanton says, and we agree with him, that if the negro tenants can not afford to pay such additional rent as would be necessary to provide adequate toilets, they should move back to the country and go to the woods, like the bears do.

Conditions as described by the health officer are disgraceful to a christian community, especially one like Grenada which calls itself The City Beautiful. Grenada is beautiful on Main Street, South, Margin, and other prosperous residential streets. Yet few of these beautiful spots are so far from the stinking, filthy toilets that reek from these pest places do not come in with a strong breeze.

Flies know no home. He may eat his breakfast at a crowded outhouse in the negro section, and eat his supper on a biscuit in the Main Street mansion, in the meantime forgetting to wipe his feet and wash his hands.

Disease germs know no home, and know no color or race. He (she) may be born and come to maturity in an unsanitary negro hovel, and begin laying his eggs in the home on Margin.

Colored servants, living oftentimes under such unsanitary conditions at home, attend your baby, cook your meals and wash your clothing. However sanitary your own home may be, and however careful you may be in your own personal habits, you can not escape real danger when you have such intimate relations with persons who live and abide in such filthy environments.

Those of us who do live in sanitary quarters can not be smug and complacent and say, "I am clean" and "I can stay clean". You cannot be clean and stay clean when, within flying-travel and germ-travel, there are so many pest spots. Epidemics started on the Peavine soon spread to College Boulevard. Pestilence started on West Union can not be confined there, but will spread to Snider.

With condition are described, and with the whole-some recommendations made by competent health authority, it behooves the citizens of Grenada to back-up Dr. Clanton and Willard Odom in their efforts to clean up. If you do not back them up for absolutely selfish reasons, then back them up for reasons of civic pride.

We warned you, before you started reading this, that it would not be a nice tale. So it is your own fault if you read it.

Bilbo Working for the Farmers

Speaking upon his proposal to increase the federal appropriation by $100,000,000 for further purchases from the farmers by the Surplus Commodity Corporation, hoping thereby to retard the continued fall of prices of farm products, Senator Bilbo made a fine argument for his proposal and concluded a long speech with the following:

Mr. President, this statement sustains the contention I am making, that we are justified in anything we do for the farmer, distressed at this time because of falling prices of all farm products. It is said that wheat has suffered a loss of 30 cents a bushel. That means millions of dollars. It is said that fat is selling for 5 cents a pound. That has practically destroyed the hog industry, the lard industry, and the cottonseed oil industry. I am merely making an attempt to divert from relief money $100,000,000 to be added to the Surplus Commodities Corporation fund, in order that they may buy up agricultural surpluses, take them off the market, and thus increase the prices, which will result in benefit to the farmer.

The money we are appropriating for relief could not be better spent, for the relief needs of the country, than in enabling the Surplus Commodities Corporation to buy up surpluses and distribute them through the food stamp plan, which has proven to be a greater success than any other undertaking of the present New Deal.

Draw Your Own Conclusions

The following is from "The People Shall Rule", issued by Hon. Paul B. Johnson, candidate for Governor and is to be found under the sub-head "Schools" on page 5 of the Bible of the Johnson campaign:

In 1935 I favored eight months school for all the children of Mississippi. I still favor eight months free school. I favor better pay for teachers. No man who loves his children and desires to see them educated and become useful men and women wishes them taught by incompetent teachers. I believe our teachers are the poorest paid professional people in the state. If we are to have competent teachers we must pay them a living salary in keeping with their profession. Under the present system the Mississippi teachers are paid the poorest salaries and when old age comes upon them, they are usually poverty stricken. It is our duty to provide some security for the teachers in their old age. I will recommend to the legislature a feasible plan for giving force and effect to this idea as contemplated by the Mississippi Educational Association.

The following is a United Press dispatch dated Jackson, May 31:

A reduction in the pay standard of white teachers in the public schools of the state was voted today by the State Board of Education. Instead of using $70 per month as the base for white teachers' salaries, $65.50 will be the standard salary for the next session, the board announced.

A formal statement said that the board was very reluctant to make any reductions in the standard and added that the decision was made only after a careful study showed that the reduction was absolutely necessary.

All county and secondary school districts also will receive 13 cents per educable child less next session than received last year under the tentative allotment made today by the board.

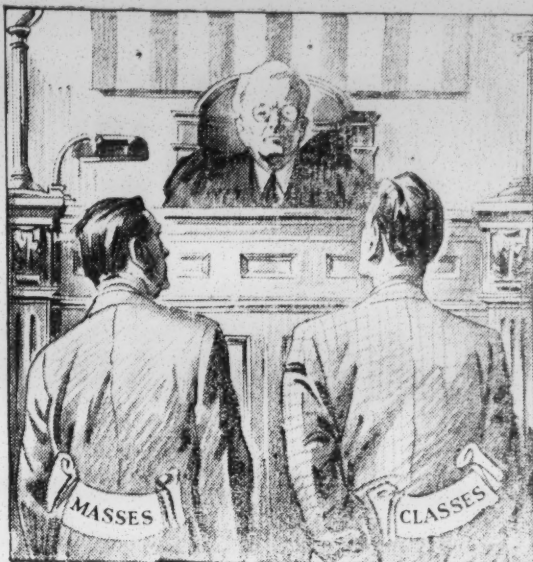

The board said that this was due to the fact that the total per capita money appropriated for the next session was the same as for the last year while there had been a larger increase in the number of educable children.

Poor Mississippi!

Me and Mike.

To combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses

—From the Preamble to the Constitution of The American Legion

The American Legion. It is a broad and comprehensive segment of American society, wherein the autocrat has no hope of gaining a foothold.

nationalities, races, creeds, as well as all economic classes has long been called the great melting pot of civilization. In our efforts to help carry out this great experiment in human evolution, we must assure all groups that we stand for reason and fairness.

Individual initiative must not be stifled by any revolution of the human drones; neither can we afford to allow powerful overbearing special privilege groups to autocratically exploit the inarticulate masses. Our Nation is large enough and rich enough so that all can live happily and well. If we permit autocratic control of one part of our people by another group we thereby nullify all of our democratic principles of fairness, freedom and justice.

Let us remember that we represent a great cross-section of our national life. Whenever we have the opportunity we must insist that differences between groups be settled peacefully, reasonably, and with fairness to the general public as well as to both competing parties.

We must do all we can to keep alive "The American Dream," the faith and confidence in the worthwhileness of the common man; the hope of opportunity and freedom for the complete balanced growth and development of each individual according to his vision, abilities, and efforts.

are received after June 15 will be turned down as it is necessary that the Plant Board inspectors start on these inspections by the middle of June so they will be completed before frost. Two or more field inspections are required with an interval of a month or more between them.

From what we have heard from Charleston, Grady Triplett and the WPA have built the free stater's jam-up school. Whatever Grady does, he does well, as he is a master carpenter and builder.

Fish Tales

Our fish in the city pool are having a hard time. Bait, lures, cigarette stumps, snuff and tobacco spittle and other stuff and trash make life one grand struggle for the poor old fish there.

The two Marters boys and Andrew Whitaker set a net and caught two fine fish Monday near Grassport. The larger one weighed 14 pounds.

Fred White and "Sawdust" Sanders by utilizing a wagon on the last day went in to White Lake Sunday, and brought back one of the finest strings of white perch and bass seen this year.

Teach your fish how.

ORDINANCE

The following ordinance was introduced, its adoption moved and seconded and put to a vote. All of the aldermen of the City being present and voting in favor thereof, it was declared duly adopted and ordered entered on the City Minutes as follows:

An ordinance fixing the time of the regular meetings of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi, and other matters relating to the business of said Board.

Be it ordained, by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi:

Section 1. The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of this city shall meet in regular session on the 1st day of the month of May of each year, and on the 1st day of each month thereafter, on the 1st day of each month, and in special session on notice and call as provided by the City Charter and the law, and all meetings of said Board shall be held at the Mayor's Office, City Hall, in said city.

Section 2. All ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after passage and shall be published one time in a newspaper published in the city.

One person at Grenada told another, "Here man, I'm getting behind for I just found that the Germans had took Holland and were about to take Belgium." That's Paul Purcell's tale, related by Francis Hill.

That poor Gibson Ryeham still has to go out of the county to replenish his supply.

CASCILLA NEWS

The ladies of the W. M. S. of Cascilla, who attended the county-wide meeting at Camp Tallaha in Monday were Mesdames Ray, Reed, Whitten, Brunson, Brown and Wile. It was a wonderful day spent together.

Mr. and Mrs. Purvis, of Chester, came to join a number of friends in Cascilla on a fishing trip. The party reported a nice day and plenty of fish to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. Stalling, of Longview were visitors in Cascilla last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Mullen, of Webb were Sunday visitors of Mrs. J. H. Mullen, the mother of Mr. Mullen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Weeks and son, Glyro and daughter, Ruby-Jean, of Water Valley, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Pate Brown.

Glen Weeks, of Water Valley, will visit his cousin, Pat Brown for several days.

One of these Methodist fishermen said it looked like fish just naturally bite better on Sunday.

Notes Taken On A Trip To Oxberry

Orley Lilly loaned the old lady a car Friday and we made a trip to our farm below Oxberry, the first I had made there in a couple of years.

Could not help but note at the Bledsue curve how people have continued to ruin what might be a beauty spot by dumping tin cans, rubbish and old cars in the gulleys nearby.

Mrs. Keeton, who planted Rambler roses for a considerable distance along the pasture fence helped overcome the ugly spot at Bledsue curve by the beauty that she created further on.

J. J. Jones, who has just about created a rich piece of land from some worn-out and thrown-away land, has his fields in fine shape.

Miles Smith's "little" boys whom we used to see as we passed there every day, are not little boys anymore, but just about as large as their paw.

Will Williams' new home on the eastern edge of the Boushe track looks clean and well kept.

All crops on the low flat lands look puny and sickly, but, with sun and heat and work, will come out alright.

The Resettlement boys on the Dogan place have mostly this kind of land, and their crops are yet to come out.

Uncle Rheuben's heirs seem to be carrying on where Uncle Rheuben left off. They are keeping their place in good shape.

Crops looked pretty well on the high lands near New Springs.

All of the Dufards must have been out working, for no sign of life was seen as we passed there. The Dufards prove to be one of the few exceptions of our country, in that they keep their property "up", while most of us, thru necessity, or laziness, let ours go down.

I think I saw Paul Johnson Singleton away off in the field toward the bottom watching some poor negroes.

Cousin Groves' home this time of the year, is the luxuriant forest trees that hide it from the highway.

Just beyond there I always have to look south to the hills where my father was born 80 years ago and where my grandfather settled before that time.

Craig Mullen, who owns the east one third, the middle third of the Guy place, has made some splendid improvements in houses, as well as in methods.

I looked for Fulton McRee in his third, the middle third of the Guy place, but he was off somewhere fishing.

Mr. King, I believe his name is, came in from lands flooded by the Sardis Dam and bought the west third of the place, and he has established an immense pasture on the front lands and has bunches of cattle in the pasture.

Passing along from Holcomb to the river bottom, I could not help but look west from the highway where my mother and my grandmother were born.

The greatest improvement that I noted on the entire trip has been made by Lem Butler who bought the Turner tract. He has cleared an immense field running from the highway north to the river, has built a number of houses, and a very large barn.

The old granshackle river bridge, showed no improvement. The SHD should refloor it at once.

Andy Scruggs' place just across the river showed up well from the road.

Lum Butler's saw mill, with Lum at the lever, was turning out two by fours and three by heavies up to capacity. It is not as big as Bogalusa, but it can cut just as thick a two by four.

The Martin old place looked kinder forlorn.

Oxberry was quite Gladys, who runs the store there, does not stand for any monkey business.

Charlie Ashmore, as usual, had his crop in first class shape. He is one of the neatest farmers in that section.

Subscriber Dan Carter, a good negro, never has got back to himself since he lost his eye, but his folks are carrying on in good shape.

Our old home, where we lived many years, looked wellbecone and run down at the best worse than hell.

Crops around Oxberry are none too good, due to cold weather and rain. They can come out however.

Saw Will Yarborough, looking more like a walking skeleton than like anything else, was walking down the road with his hands clasped behind his back, as usual. He would hardly hit at a snake if the snake was fixing to bite him.

We stopped and drank from our old artesian well which, like most things at Oxberry, has about played its last tune.

Saw Mayor Earl Staten who was in his usual good humor and the heir apparent, Earl Jr., full of devilment as usual. The Mayor has the greenest field of corn I saw all day long. Earl is given up to be the best farmer in that section, liker or no liker.

Coming back, we stopped and talked to Uncle Jim Johnson and Aunt Sarah. Uncle Jim was walking around, and Aunt Sarah was chopping cotton, as usual.

Noted where Sister Brizance has built a new home since we were there last.

Could not help but indulge in a little philosophy to the extent that we are ready to state positively that all the McRee men have good taste in picking wives. Fulton has a good looker; Dick has a good looker; and the second generation has not let the name suffer, as Kirk and Jack both have good lookers and we will bet little Dick has one too when he sets out.

The old lady and the girls and I drove back through Holcomb. The first thing we saw was Cousin Hortense smoking a cigaret and pulling weeds from her flowers.

Foot Clark is now looking after McRee's store. Junior Hayden is helping out at the Hayden store. Chester Martin is getting a terrible belly. Vernon Gibson was working the garden, presumably. Volney Nason was worrying about crops and weather, and the New Deal, as usual. "Miss" Alice is able to get about without much trouble since her injury.

One Mess is out.

My Column
Whyte Whitaker, Jr.

—My Column vs. the Fifth Column—

As we see it, the greatest menace in America today is the internal termites eating at the very foundation of our government.

These termites, better known as Fifth Columnists, are doing all in their power to disrupt, destroy, and render desolate our power to successfully prepare ourselves against what they seem to be counting on, a pending invasion by a totalitarian nation from abroad.

These foreign agents' work has born fruit, a fruit that the Americans shouldn't dare let go to seed. The fruit of Communism, Nazism, Fascism, and all other isms should be squelched by the dominating ism, Amerigenism.

The United States is somewhat of a melting pot, having within itself people of all nationalities and creeds. And with a few exceptions, these people have lived together in peace and tranquility; with a devout belief in the preservation of the cherished rights that our forefathers many years ago staked their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor to bring into existence.

To those that don't appreciate the advantages of our government, let them go back where they came from. The government shouldn't appreciate, tolerate, or stand for unAmerican activities in any shape, form or fashion.

This Fifth Column stuff is serious, not to be ignored. If you see a suspicious character in your section of the country report him to the proper authorities. In that way you will help put to an end the destruction of the internal termites.

See where they are going to measure cotton acreage again this year. We've held one of those jobs in years gone by and it surely is easy to sit under a shade tree, eat a watermelon, and estimate the size of a field.

Here's an old French proverb, take it for what its worth: "Love is the dawn of marriage, and marriage is the sunset of love".

The couples that have rounded out their lives together, that have lived in peace, tranquility and happiness thru their married life will tell you the proverb is all bunk.

However, it isn't very hard to find plenty of people who will tell you that the Frenchman had plenty of sense.

The President of the United States is asking Congress for broad and un-usual powers—the power to draft the National Guards into active service.

Is this fair? Let's see if it is. Did the boys join the organization expecting to be drafted into active service? No, they didn't. They enlisted with the understanding that they were only to be called out by the government if the state, unless actual war between this country and a foreign power was declared, or in progress.

Another thing, mind you, if these boys belonging to the National Guards are to be put in uniform, then why should other young men of the same age be allowed to continue a normal life, just because they didn't happen to join the Guards.

Incidentally, those that slacked around, thought that they were too good to belong to the organization, need the training far more than the active, or reserve National Guardsmen.

It would be rank discrimination calling the Guards to the colors and overlooking American citizenship of the same age.

On March 10th, 1937, we enlisted in the National Guards and stayed actively engaged in the organization for over two years, having enlisted for 3 years. The remainder of the 3 years we were in the reserve corps. We've served our time, so don't think that we are against this proposal to save our own hide.

Here is a prediction: If the President is allowed to call these men to the colors the United States will be in war within 6 months.

"Shy" York is giving the fair sex a break. Mississippi State has done something to that boy—he would hardly look at a girl this time last year. We'll take that back, he would give them an occasional casual glance.

Louise McCaslin must be hibernating, we haven't seen her in a coon's age.

The Great Mother, the Red Cross, appeals to each and every one for some contribution, large or small, to help ease the suffering victims of the terrible holocaust now so furiously being waged. The women, children, and aged men of the invaded countries of Holland, Luxembourg, Belgium and France are suffering, ghastly in need of the essentials of livelihood.

Seriously, their need is so great that the subject cannot be over-emphasized. Your neighbor has given something. Why not you?

UTILITY TAXES RETARD CUT IN SERVICE RATES

Taxes Take 16 Per Cent Of Each Dollar Earned By Utilities

The history of the private electric power industry in this country has been one of steadily improving service and rapidly declining rates. In technical efficiency, it has surpassed the rest of the world by a wide margin, and the resulting savings have been passed on to the consumer. Today we can operate a long list of electrical appliances in our homes for less than the cost of lighting alone a few years back. Electricity is the only item in the government's official cost-of-living index which is cheaper now than in those far off prewar days of 1913.

But the excessive and growing tax burden placed by government on the utilities is a definite threat to further rate reductions—and, on top of that, it may make rate increases unavoidable. You don't need to take any utility spokesman's word for that. The other day the Public Service Commission of New York handed down an order granting a utility a rate increase aggregating about $408,000 a year. And the decision assailed high utility taxes as the principal cause of the increase. It then went on to describe the taxes paid by this particular company, showing that higher rates were essential if it was to make both ends meet.

Federal, state and local taxes today take 16 per cent or more of every dollar of utility revenue—and that means gross revenue, not net profits. In a number of states the tax collector digs into the utility's till to the tune of 20 per cent of every nickel taken in. And the blame will lie squarely upon government if utility rates now change from a downward to an upward curve.

By contrast, it should be remembered that the government electric plants which are now competing with the private systems, pay practically nothing in taxes. On top of that the government systems are built with tax funds, and receive numerous costly services "free" for which the private companies must pay at going prices. Socialism is fun for the politicians—but it's tough on private citizens and taxpayers.
